

WELCOME TO TR|BECA FLASHPOINT COLLEGE.

Since 2007, Tribeca Flashpoint Academy has been the place where artistic, innovative students can transform their creative ideas into creative realities. This month, we're proud to announce the beginning of our own transformation as Tribeca Flashpoint Academy becomes Tribeca Flashpoint College.

Today, Tribeca Flashpoint College is a bachelor's degree-granting institution specializing in media, arts, and communications. It is a place where you'll explore your interests in film, design, marketing, animation, audio engineering, and more—building lifelong personal and professional relationships, developing your creativity, honing your skills, and launching your career.

We give you everything you would expect from a world-class college: an award-winning faculty of practicing professionals; an impressive high-tech campus in downtown Chicago; rigorous academics; affordable tuition; and a dynamic and diverse student community.

But we also give you so much more.

Since our founding, we have developed a distinctive model of education that has earned us respect as a leader in our field--and our job placement rates and employer endorsements are evidence that the industry agrees.
